

Police

The City of Ojai contracts with the Ventura County Sheriff's Office for traditional police services. The use of specialized units, such as SWAT, Bomb Squad, Hostage Negotiations and Air Support, is also available through the police contract. The City is divided into two patrol beats that are covered 24/7 by deputies working 12-hour shift schedules. The police benefit from the high degree of volunteerism present in the Ojai community by using the dedicated Ojai Police Volunteers to perform many of the jobs deputies no longer have time to perform. The Ojai Police Department is responsible for the safety and welfare of the citizens of Ojai, and department members strive to prevent crime, enforce the law, investigate criminal activity, and apprehend offenders, so that Ojai remains a safe place to live, raise a family, run a business or visit on vacation.

The Ventura County Sheriff's Office is comprised of four divisions. An Assistant Sheriff oversees Detention Services and Support Services while another Assistant Sheriff oversees Patrol Services and Special Services.

The Patrol Division services the County of Ventura and the five contract cities of Camarillo, Fillmore, Moorpark, Ojai, and Thousand Oaks, as well as the unincorporated areas of Ventura County. Within Patrol are also the Mounted Unit, K-9 Unit, Sheriff's Communications Center and the Office of Emergency Services.

The Detention Division is the largest of the four divisions in both personnel and budget. This includes all jobs related to inmate services such as reception, booking and classification, jail services, courtroom and pre-trial security. Currently there are three jail facilities.

The Special Services Division includes the Air Unit, Major Crimes, Narcotics, Intelligence, Bomb Squad, S.W.A.T., Hostage Negotiations, Forensic Science Laboratory, Information Systems and the Evidence Unit.

Our Support Services Division includes important internal departments that are essential to the structure and operational needs of VCSO across a wide variety of areas. These departments include the Business Office, Human Resources, Professional Standards Bureau, Records, and our Training Academy Staff.
